SELECT SUPPORT

FOR SOFTWARE

Terms and conditions for TekCare support.

Support Services

Offering description

Select Support offers direct contact with StorageTek® Monday through Friday, between the hours of 8 a.m. and 5 p.m. local time — nine hours a day, five days a week (9 x 5) excluding nationally recognized holidays. Services consist of StorageTek making a good-faith effort to diagnose reported software defects and issuing defect correction information such as corrected documentation, code updates, notice of availability of code updates, restriction, workaround or bypass. Services also include the supply of program updates that periodically incorporate corrections made in response to other software defects detected by StorageTek.

Offering attributes

Customer Resource Center (24 x 7)

Select Support Customers have Internet access to StorageTek's Customer Resource Center (CRC) 24 hours a day, seven (7) days a week (24 x 7). This allows viewing of technical information such as frequently asked questions, technical bulletins and online documentation. In addition, Select Support allows Customers to download software updates. Select Support Customers must request a login and password to access the CRC.

Telephone support (9 x 5)

Select Support Customers will have telephone access to StorageTek technical resources 8 a.m. to 5 p.m. local time, Monday through Friday (9 x 5), excluding nationally recognized holidays. In the event they are not able to resolve an issue on their own, Customers may call StorageTek and be connected to a technical analyst who will assist with problem isolation, technical questions or operational assistance regarding the program.

Customer responsibilities

Customers must cooperate with StorageTek in diagnosing a reported problem including facilitating connectivity for remote diagnostic access, if applicable, and must be responsible for remedial actions requested by StorageTek. This cooperation will include Customer gathering needed information to diagnose the problem, sending such information to StorageTek, downloading and applying applicable code fixes and patches, and maintaining the Licensed Program at a currently supported release and version level.

E-mail (24 x 7)

Select Support Customers have 24 x 7 Internet access to StorageTek via a designated e-mail address. The Customer may submit questions about programs and their operation or may request technical information about the latest fixes or patches. Technical resources will monitor these facilities and issue a prompt acknowledgement upon receipt of the e-mail. The target response for issuing a reply is the next business day.*

*Customer desiring an immediate response from StorageTek during the designated hours of coverage should not use the e-mail option.

Maintenance release notification database (24 x 7)

Select Support Customer will have access to information on code fixes and patches. Located on the CRC, the information is available any time, day or night. In most cases, Select Support Customers can download and install a software code fix or patch directly from the CRC. Customer shall specify the Select Support code in order to receive applicable fix or patch.

Remote diagnostics (9 x 5)

If the Select Support Customer program resides on a product that has StorageTek remote diagnostic capability, the StorageTek analyst will make reasonable efforts to establish a remote connection to the Customer device to perform remote troubleshooting. Select Support Customer's remote diagnostic services is performed 8 a.m. to 5 p.m. local time, Monday through Friday (9 x 5), excluding nationally recognized holidays.

Services not covered under Select Support

Onsite

Any onsite activity performed by StorageTek is not covered by Select Support. If requested, StorageTek may elect to perform onsite services under the then-current rates and terms for Billable Services.

Installation

Software License Program, release or version installation, is a Customer responsibility and not covered under any Select Support. If requested, StorageTek may elect to install software under the then-current rates and terms for billable Services.

- .. "Release" means modifications to Licensed Programs that do not cause a change in the model number and may add functionality. New releases are available from StorageTek upon request and are generally provided at no additional charge.
- .. "Version" means modifications to Licensed Programs that add significant functionality and cause a change in the model number. A new version may have an upgrade charge, a new initial license charge, and a new recurring license charge or a new recurring support charge.

General exclusions*

The following services are not included in Services and, if performed by StorageTek, are billable on a time-and-material basis at StorageTek's then-current rates:

- All support services performed by StorageTek beyond the scope of the Services described herein;
- Support of any kind on a program which has been altered, modified, copied or used in such a manner not described by StorageTek's written documentation or as otherwise directed by StorageTek;
- Support of equipment, programs, facilities and other items not covered under one of StorageTek's Program Support Services or Product Support offering. StorageTek will provide commercially reasonable efforts to attempt to assist Customer or Customer's agent in problem isolation efforts.

*This is a partial list of exclusions.

Other terms

Recurring License charges

In cases involving Recurring License Charges, payment of such license charges also entitles Customer to receive Services as described herein.

Recurring support charges

In those cases where a Licensed Program does not have a Recurring License charge, Services are available through Customer payment of Recurring Support charges as specified on the schedule and defined herein.

General charges

Charges such as Periodic License charges and Periodic Support charges as specified on the Schedule will be invoiced in advance. After the first twelve (12) months, StorageTek may adjust periodic charges.

All services performed by StorageTek beyond the scope of Services described herein are billable under the then-current terms for Billable Program Services.

License discontinuance or termination

When a subsequent release of a Licensed Program becomes available, StorageTek may discontinue Services for all prior Releases upon six (6) months written notice.

When a subsequent Version of a Licensed Program becomes available, StorageTek may discontinue Services for all prior Versions upon twelve (12) months written notice.

StorageTek may terminate Services at any time by giving twelve (12) months prior written notice to Customer.
